CARLTON AFTER DARK

MARGOT SHARMAN

Eclectic Carlton

Join us for a delightful evening with Margot Sharman, a Carlton resident of over 30 years! We'll dive into her new and exciting work, Eclectic Carlton, as well as her 8-year art and photography project. Documenting the local, candid, diverse, political and historical in Carlton community using just an iPhone and Photoshop, Margot will talk us through her life of street photography.

Wednesday 12 October
6.30pm-7.30pm
 Carlton Library

JULIA BUSUTTIL NISHIMURA

Around The Table

Julia Busuttill Nishimura, local cook, author, and legend, will talk about her newest work, celebrating simple ingredients, seasonal produce and the joys of coming together at the table. Influenced by her Maltese heritage and Japanese family, the distinctive ebb and flow of Melbourne's seasons, and her time spent living in Tuscany. Julia is the author of bestselling cookbooks Ostro and A Year of Simple Family Food. Her latest, Around the Table: Delicious food for every day became Australia's number one cooking and lifestyle book in a matter of weeks.

FIRST THURSDAY FILMS

FOREIGN LANGUAGE FILM SERIES

Amour (M)

Georges and Anne are cultivated, retired music teachers, living alone. One day, Anne suffers a stroke. As her condition deteriorates, and Georges is forced to make a heart-breaking pact with his cherished wife, the couple's bond of love is severely tested.

Thursday 6 October • 1pm-3pm
Collingwood Library

Neruda (MA15+)

It's 1948, and the Cold War has reached Chile. Following a ban on communism, Neruda and his wife Delia are forced into hiding. Beloved by the populace, they slip underground and are pursued by incompetent, vainglorious police inspector Oscar Peluchonneau, hoping to make a name for himself by capturing the country's most infamous fugitive.

Thursday 3 November • 1pm-3pm • Collingwood Library

FILMS IN THE THEATRETTE

JOIN US FOR ECLECTIC FILM SCREENINGS IN THE RICHMOND THEATRETTE

8½ (M)

Troubled Italian filmmaker Guido Anselmi (Marcello Mastroianni) struggles as he attempts to get a new movie off the ground. Overwhelmed by his work and personal life, the director retreats into his thoughts. As he tries to sort out his many entanglements Anselmi finds his production becoming more and more autobiographical.

Tuesday 18 October • 2pm-4.30pm
Richmond Library

Martha: A Street Picture (M)

Martha Cooper captured the birth of the global graffiti art movement in 1970s New York. Decades later, she's an icon, with thousands of photographs capturing the humanity and joy of people living on society's fringes. Continuing her work at 75, Martha has illuminated subcultures that, if not for her, would remain unseen.

Tuesday 18 October • 6pm-7.30pm
Richmond Library

Traffic (G)

Monsieur Hulot, a Parisian auto company's hapless director of design, takes his latest model, a caravan with various gadgets, to exhibit at an auto show. In Jacques Tati's trademark mix of the visually stunning and the side-splittingly hilarious, he encounters mishaps, chaos, and the classic Hulot comedy of errors as he hits the road.
